

21st of July 2024 from 13:00-17:30

Seminar Room 11, 1st floor, Bldg. 101, Komaba Campus, U-Tokyo + Online

International Workshop:

Our Dealings with the Invisible: on the Air as a Form of Commons

見えないものとの付き合いとは一コモンとしての空気について

Program:

13:00 Opening: Yukiko Kuwayama (UTCP)

13:15 Mathieu Gaulène (U-Nîmes)

14:00 Lorenzo Marinucci (U-Tōhoku)

14:45 Break

15:00 Satomi Abe (U-Kobe)

15:45 Yuho Hisayama (U-Kobe)

16:30 Break

16:45 General discussion

Language: English and Japanese

The term “kūki” (air) in contemporary Japanese can refer to various dimensions of our daily experiences from the air we inhale and exhale, to intersubjective and nonverbal experiences such as “something in the air”. This workshop aims to open a wide ranged discussion on our attitudes to something invisible and atmospheric led by younger academic specialists in anthropology, semiotics, literature and philosophy especially in aesthetics, ethics and phenomenology.

Please register from the website:

Organization: The University of Tokyo Center for Philosophy (UTCP)

Co-organization: East Asian Academy for New Liberal Arts, U-Tokyo (EAA)

Cooperation: Kobe Institute for Atmospheric Studies (KOIAS)